THE EIGHT HOUR QUESTION.

Will Be Discussed at the Opera House Friday and Saturday Evenings.Mr. Thomas Oberlund, of Duluth, will speak in the Opera House in this city Friday and Saturday evenings, May 3d and 4th, on the Eight Hour question and other labor topics, speaking in the English language on Friday evening, and in Scandinavian Saturday evening. Everybody is invited to attend.
The labor question is everywhere receiving more attention than ever before, and those who attend these meetings cannot fail to be instructed and benefited.Tax ward politician is in his glory

Cloud Journal-Press.THERE is no opposition to the Hon.
W. A. Fleming for municipal judge, and there should be none. He has served this city and county faithful during the recent session and has sacrificed large personal interests in accepting the position. During his career as judge he gave the best of satisfaction and turned over more money into the city treasury by half than any predecessor.

Weekly Payment of Wages.

A law passed this winter by the Wisconsin legislature, provides that all wages or compensation for labor or services in this state, unless there shall be a written contract to the contrary, shall be paid weekly or bi-weekly in cash. But the act does not nullify contracts in force at the time of its passage, nor apply to agricultural laborers, commercial travelers, persons work on commission, traveling employees of railway and express companies, persons employed in logging camps, or "driving," running or man-facturing of logs or lumber, nor to any person whose occupation is such as to render him inaccessible on the regular pay day.

First Under the New Law.

Thomas Brown, the Moorhead murderer, will be hung at Moorhead on June 7th. The new law provides that the prisoner is to be kept in solitary confinement and see no one but his family, his lawyers and his spiritual advisers. He is to be executed before sunrise and may invite three persons to be present. The sheriff invites six persons besides the surgeon. The most unique feature of the law, however, is the provision which makes it a misdemeanor for any newspaper to print anything more about the matter than the mere announcement. This is for the purpose of preventing the sensational and sensational accounts of executions usually printed. The same provision is made in the recently enacted New York law, but it has not yet been tested. A number of lawyers have expressed the opinion that the new feature of the law won't hold water.—Journal.

For the Benefit of Cashiers.

The Weldon bill which has just passed the Canadian parliament and will this week be approved by the governor general, names the following as extraditable offenses under that measure:Murder, or attempt or conspiracy to murder, manslaughter. Counterfeiting or altering money and uttering counterfeit or altered money.
Forgery, counterfeiting or altering, or uttering what is forged, counter-feited or altered. Larceny. Embezzlement. Obtaining money on goods or valuable securities by false pretenses. Rape. Abduction. Child stealing. Kidnaping. Burglary.
House-breaking or shop-breaking. Arson. Robbery. Threats, by letter or otherwise, with intent to extort. Perjury or subornation of perjury.
Bribery by municipal law or law of nations, committed on board of a vessel against a vessel of foreign state.
Criminal scuttling or destroying such a vessel at sea, whether on the high seas or on the great lakes of North America, or attempting or conspiring to do so. Assault on board such a vessel at sea, whether on the high seas or on the great lakes of North America, with intent to destroy life or to do serious bodily harm. Revolt, or conspiracy to revolt, by two or more persons on board such a vessel at sea, whether on the high seas or on the great lakes of North America, against the authority of the master. Any offense which is, in the case of the principal offender, included in any foregoing portion of this schedule, and for which the fugitive criminal, though not the principal, is liable to be tried or punished as if he were the principal.

OUR REASONS.

The Rotten State of Things Under the Present Administration Apparent.

A Change Demanded by the People.

The Reason the Dispatch Supports Capt. W. P. Spaulding for Mayor.It had not been the intention of the Dispatch to wade into the present election muddle to any great depth, but inasmuch as the Journal, Mayor Hemstead's organ, has seen fit to bolster up his administration and to charge the present movement with being a conspiracy against the working men of this city it is impossible for us to sit quietly by and allow things to take their course without uttering our protest.In the first place we want to state that we always have a choice, and unlike certain papers which speak with "no uncertain sound," we are not afraid to express them.In the second place we want to state that personally, we have nothing other than kindly feeling for Mayor Hemstead—politically, we are opposed to him, and we think we can show the people that we have good reasons for taking the position we do in the matter. In thus prefacing our article we trust no misapprehension will occur.At the last city election this paper was an ardent and strong supporter of Dr. Hemstead for mayor. We gave the gentleman our support because we knew there were certain illegal practices going on in the city which needed looking after and correcting and because there were certain important financial questions connected with our city government which ought to receive the sober and earnest attention of the chief executive. We believe that the interests of our taxpayers demanded something more than a passing thought, and we believed that Mr. Hemstead was the right kind of a man to place at the head of our city affairs—that under his administration certain institutions of vice and hell of infamy would either be closed or so regulated as to no longer make our city a disgrace to civilization; and that our people would be protected against jobbery and scheming. We had hoped that a safe, practical and economical course would be pursued under his guidance, and we expected good results at his hands.After a year's trial we find that the expectations of the people who placed him in this position of honor and trust have not been realized in a single instance. The people are disappointed and we were greatly mistaken in the man. Vice goes on rampant, violations of the law are as flagrant, and pimps, prostitutes and gamblers still infest and curse the city, and as defiant as of yore—and more so if such a thing is possible. All manner of extravagances have been indulged in, until our city finances are in a deplorable condition. It is not necessary to particularize, but it is enough to say that in our humble opinion, Mayor Hemstead's administration has been a pitiful failure. His patronizing air has brought together too far-reaching, and the exigency of the case demands that a change be made. The people have a chance to place a man in the mayor's chair whose weight of years has given him the experience necessary to enable him to fill to the satisfaction of all the position. His election would not be as that of an uncertain and untried quantity. With the steady hand and cool head of the Capt. W. P. Spaulding at the head of the city government we think every laboring man, every business man, and every man who has a son or a daughter just blooming into manhood or womanhood, could rest assured that their interests would be protected and that rampant vice would be at least placed under control and surveillance of the police, and where the contaminating influences would not daily be flaunted in the faces of their families. Vote for W. P. Spaulding and the best interest of the city.

Undisputed merit.

The great success of the Royal Baking Powder is due to the extreme care exercised by its manufacturers to make it entirely pure, uniform in quality, and of the highest leavening power. All the scientific knowledge care and skill, attained by a twenty years' practical experience are contributed toward this end, and no pharmaceutical preparation can be dispensed with a greater accuracy precision and exactness. Every article used is absolutely pure. A number of chemists are employed to test the strength of each ingredient, so that its exact power and effect in combination with its co-ingredients is definitely known. Nothing is trusted to chance, and no person is employed in the preparation of the materials used or the manufacture of the powder, who is not an expert in his particular branch of the business. As a consequence, the Royal Baking Powder is of the highest grade of excellence, always pure, wholesome and uniform in quality. Each box is exactly like every other, and will retain its powers and produce the same and the highest leavening effect of any climate, at any time. The Government Chemists after having analyzed all the principal brands in the market, in their reports placed the Royal Baking Powder at the head of the list for strength, purity, and wholesom-ness, and thousands of tests all over the country have further demonstrated the fact that its qualities are, in every respect, unrivaled.

J. S. Gardner in the Field.

Such a heavy pressure has been brought to bear upon J. S. Gardner that he has finally consented to allow the use of his name for alderman from the First ward. During the past week there has been at least a dozen delegations of tax-payers and citizens from his ward to see him in regard to the matter and have urged him to such an extent that he could not consistently refuse to run, inasmuch as these same men have agreed to "get him there." Mr. Gardner has twice filled the position of mayor and has served before on the city council for several terms. He is no novice at the business and his advent in the aldermanic race puts quite a different aspect on the chances of the return of the present incumbent, Mr. Keough, who was supposed to have it all his own way until to-day. Jim is a political rustler from way back, and if you don't believe it come up and look over the DISPATCH files for the past five years.Hardly had the above been put in type when the announcement reached us that Mr. Keough had withdrawn from the race. Great is the power of the press.

At His Old Tricks.

"For instance, such statements as that made by H. J. Hagadorn, a skilled workman and well known resident citizen, who says that Mr.
Hemstead threatened that if he left employment at his mill, he would blacklist him, so that he could not get employment anywhere else in this vicinity or words to that effect."—Journal.Mr. Stivers is at his old tricks again, endeavoring to blind the eyes of the workmen for political purposes. If Mr. Hagadorn made the above statement we are authorized to state that he told a deliberate falsehood. In the first place the firm were not at all alarmed about Mr. Hagadorn's leaving, in fact he was discharged for reasons that would not tend to create any great amount of respect for him if published, but which can be learned by asking John Witham —a gentleman whose veracity is considered to be good.

The Belle Prairie Convent Burned.

Little Falls Transcript, April 26: Soon after 12 o'clock last night one of the Sisters in the Belle Prairie convent was awakened by smoke, and she discovered that the south part of the building was ablaze. The inmates of the building were immediately aroused, and with difficulty the building was saved. The Sisters in the convent, four in number, have been conducting a children's school for several years, and there were twenty-four of the little ones asleep in the building at the time the fire began. When the fire was discovered it was too late to make any effort to stop it, and there was barely time to awaken the children and get them out of the building; in some cases the fire had reached the sleeping rooms before the occupants were awake. None of the clothing of the children was saved, and parties from this city have been contributing today for their relief.
The building and contents were valued at over $20,000, and there was only $2,000 insurance. The fire started in the southeast corner, near the chapel, and the occupants of the house say that there had been no fire in that part of the building for months. From this appears that it must have been the work of an incendiary, but it hardly seems possible that any human being would do an act that would endanger the lives of those that were in the building at the time. It would be difficult to imagine a punishment severe enough for such a villain.

CONVERSATIONAL ART.

A Bare Gift Which Requires Inspiration

Between talking and conversation, in its finest possibilities, there is as wide a difference as between walking and dancing. Conversation is one of the fine arts, and we venture to assert that it is a rarer one than music. There can be found a dozen people who can reduce a conversation to a series of redundant and largely meaningless phrases, and who can produce a drawing or write a readable novel, to one who has the gift, the grace, the supreme charm of conversation. It is the art of arts. It necessarily includes all others, not in matters of technical knowledge, but in the essential elements of a true culture—that culture which is an achievement, not an external acquire-ment—can produce conversation. Talk is a necessary element of life, and it is of no importance save as one of the conveniences of existence; but conversation is a gift of the gods. A woman is by no means necessary, cultivated because she happens to have studied this, or known that, or because she has traveled, or lived in a certain grade of society. True these things conduce to culture, but they do not necessarily confer it. To know this or that fact in history or in art, to have read a novel, or listened to an opera is of little consequence, unless it results in a response in mental vigor, unless these isolated data give their fine aroma, their essence, that enters into and enriches the character and the soul, produced by intellectual activity.
The average woman may be taught to be a pianist, she may be taught embroidery; she may be cultivated in all conventional forms of etiquette; but she can no more be taught, by external means, to be a good conversationalist than she can be taught to write a novel or a dramatic poem. It is the tragedy of life that the generality of people have nothing to say to say that is worth the saying or hearing. They have read the latest novel, they have met the reigning social lion, and they do not know how to show for it? They will inform you that they like—or dislike, as may be—the novel, the opera, or the individual.
But what does that signify? They personal preferences or prejudices are of no possible consequence. But the woman who can dramatize her impressions—who has certain definite ideas for the fact that is in her, who can tell you what the author means in the novel, or to what degree the artist realizes lyric art, or who does not put something in the personality of the reigning social lion of the moment—how rare and how precious does such a one make the hour. She brings to life new insights, new magnificence, new forces. Conversation is, too, very largely a spiritual relation. "With one man," says Emerson, "I walk while the stars are shining, and I feel me to the wall." Conversation is stimulated, drawn out, or repressed and extinguished to a great degree by these mental magnificence of temper-ment.—Boston Traveler.

Right You Are.

Representative W. A. Fleming is a candidate for municipal judge of Brainerd, having been nominated at citizens' convention. It is not probable that there will be any opposition to his election. He held the same position before assuming his duties in the legislature, and made an excellent magistrate.—Little Falls Transcript.The pet bill of Col. Graves, speaker of the late house of representatives, died a natural death. The bill authorized and legalized the severance of certain riparian rights and privileges at Duluth and was a bonanza in disguise for several people in that city. After hard work, Mr. Graves got his bill through both branches, but the governor failed to sign it.

BRAINERD, - MINNESOTA

The ladies of Oakland, a village near Indianapolis, inaugurated a crusade against liquor selling, and established a surveillance over an establishment run by Ammon and Alexander Keppler, regular committee men being appointed, and the ladies in squads of four and five, spending the entire time in the saloon, making notes of sales and keeping "tab" on every man purchasing drinks. Every effort was made to force them away, but actual violence, loafers even, bringing in polecats and putting the animals under the stove, hoping the scent would drive out the women. One lady fainted, but remained at her post. Indictment against the Kepplers were secured.

United States Telegrams:

W. H. Keyser, claiming to hail from Greenville, Mo., is under arrest from Iowa City for an alleged attempt to defraud the state. The alleged victim was a $100,000 bond of one of his properties, valued at $100,000. Keyser came to Iowa last fall, and offered $10,000 and $18,000 acres of West Virginia land for the property. After considerable paroling this was accepted. Before the deal was concluded Keyser insisted that he would not give any mortgage on the property for the full amount. The papers were accordingly made out for a $100,000 bond, and the deal was consummated. The deed was not spread upon the records when the grantors discovered that the man was a swindler, and that they were, and they became alarmed. Their tracking him had been deemed away and all they had to show for it was a $20,000 mortgage.

sons Killed.

Buffalo with rope stock escaped with severe cuts and bruises. He wore his right foot white with blood. The man who was killed was a mechanic, having had it badly hurt while working on a car. The man who was killed was the one that he saw the body of W. J. Ferguson on Brooklyn headless after he himself was rescued.

A BALL PLAYER PROBABLY KILLED.

It is feared that big Bill Phillips of Chicago, the New York Yankees' star catcher, was among the killed. He was expected to report to-day. The majority of the passengers and who were killed were in the smoking car and the co-ch following them. They were telephoned and the first to catch fire. The rescuers were under the impression that all of the passengers were removed from the cars, and they were horrified when they saw the bodies of those who were dead body slipped from the West in the second baggage car. It was also burned.

From eight to ten thousand people are expected to be in attendance. Forty-one G. A. R. posts are represented. Among the prominent men present are: Ex-Gov. W. R. Harrison, Gov. John H. Dancy, Judge John P. Rhea, ex-commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. of the United States; Hon. L. L. Wheelock, and others.

John H. Francis, the heavy holder of the trust certificates, was in Chicago the first day. He said the trust would not only be able to outlast the trouble, but keep them as long as the combine could control the market. Speaking of the St. Paul district, which will be one of the principal centers of attack by the trust, he said he hoped to be in the hands of inexperienced investors, who would be sure of losing at present an unexpected investment thus managing it.

A Dog Habit.

It has been remarked that dogs are around several times before lying down. The habit is supposed to antedate the time in canine history when the dog was wild and inhabited the caves or tall grass. Then it was necessary to turn several times in order to twist the grass into the proposition for pressing down into a comfortable nest. The habit became fixed and the modern dog has not outgrown it.—Kansas City Journal.

But, to demonstrate to the public what we offer this season, is Their Advantage.

By constantly calling your attention to the class of goods we sell, as also the prices placed on them, we feel that we are deserving of your patronage. All we ask is a fair show. Compare our prices as an average with anything you have seen elsewhere, and you will find in the long run we do not humbug you. P. T. Barnum has said,

"THE PUBLIC WANTS TO BE HUMBUGGED."

We cannot agree with him from our stand-point. Being established in business here, it is our policy to offer goods for what they are, and at the LOWEST MARKET CASH PRICES. We do not offer a 10c Gingham for 6c. to you, which costs 8c at the Factory,

And use this as a bait; and the next attractive nick-nack you see, make it up a hundred fold; but we will guarantee new, fresh, desirable goods, both staple and fancy, at BOTTOM PRICES. Trade this Spring is better than ever, and we thank our friends and customers for their patronage. We shall endeavor always, as in the past, to

The first brick house in south-east Brainerd was completed Wednesday. It is owned by Wm. Graham, of Butte City, Mont., a brother of Alderman Graham. The gentleman expects to put up several more houses in that part of the city soon.

The Catholic society of this city have commenced the construction of a fine brick parsonage on Fifth street. The building will be 25x40, two stories high and will have a brick cellar under the entire building. A furnace will be placed under the new building and it is the intention to arrange so as to heat the church also from the same fire.

N. M. Paine as meat inspector. The appointment meets with general approval, as Mr. Paine is well acquainted with the business and is considered to be a fair and conscientious man, and as long as he has the business to look after the inspection will be carried on in satisfactory manner.

Sheriff Lunefest, of Anoka, was in Brainerd Monday in quest of Anthony Bryer, who brutally beat a man in that place. Bryer will answer to a charge of assault in the second degree. It is highly probable that some other crimes that have been committed recently at that place will have some light thrown on them during his trial.

Mayor Hemstead left on Tuesday to attend the funeral of his father who died at Omaha, Neb., on Monday night. His death was not unexpected, as he had been in ill health for some time, and Mr. Hemstead had but returned from his bed-side a few days when he was called back by the sad news.

The Brainerd brewery seems to be doing a very prosperous business at present. It seems that Brainerd people are bound to have beer and such being the case it is much better for the prosperity of the town to have it manufactured here rather than to send the money to outside places. The aggregate paid out by the saloon-keepers of this city in the course of a year for beer would astonish most anyone not conversant with the facts.

The Gull River people are in somewhat of a quandary to know what to do about their meat inspection. The law provides that all meat shall be inspected by a person appointed by the local board of health. Being in an unorganized county they have no township organization to create a board and there is no law that provides for the county commissioners appointing one.

HAIRE-SMITH. In this city by the Rev. Fields, on Wednesday, May 1st, 1889, Rev. W. C. Haire, of Paynesville, Minn., to Miss Emma Smith, of this city.

The wedding took place at the residence of the bride, corner of Broadway and Holly streets, at 10 o'clock on the day mentioned, and the ceremony was witnessed by a few of the intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. After the knot was tied the company partook of refreshments and latter on accompanied the couple to the noon train on which they took passage for their home in Stearns county. The bride is the sister of J. L. Smith, and is a highly cultured young lady who has made hosts of friends in Brainerd during her comparative short residence here. The groom resided in Brainerd during the winter, filling a position in the freight department of the N. P. road. He accepted a call to the First Congregational Church at Paynesville, in Stearns county, some weeks since and the couple will make that their future home. A host of friends in this city wish them all the happiness possible in their wedded life. A large number of handsome and useful gifts were received by the bride among which we note the following:

Marble top side-board, J. L. Smith and wife.

Silver table spoons, Mrs. C. B. Sleeper and Mrs. J. L. Smith.

Easy chair, J. R. Smith.

Turkish table cover, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fleming.

Silver rug, A. C. Van Campen.

Silver and glass sugar bowl, Mrs. Ed. Hazen.

Silver silver sugar shell, D. Simons.

Silver and gold berry spoons, J. Q. Matthews.

Hand painted banner, Mrs. G. S. Fernald.

Individual salt and pepper, Miss Blanche Ingersoll.

White satin fan, Miss Kennedy.

Silver butter dish, Miss Maggie Richie, Eau Claire, Wis.

Glass water set and tray, Mrs. I. Fox and Mrs. Bailey.

Pair friendship rings, Mrs. Brockway.

Fillow shams and towels, Mrs. H. W. Simons.

Set of lace, Mrs. Bishop.

Silver butter knife, Lillie Wilson.

Oil painting, Mrs. S. C. Tennis and daughter.

Hand painted banner, Mrs. C. D. Johnson.

Fruit knives, Mrs. N. H. Ingersoll.

Cut glass tumblers, Mrs. Currie.

Silver tea spoons, Seth Tennis.

Silver cup and saucer, Irma Camp.

Silver tooth-pick holder and napkin rings, J. W. Smith.

Silver napkin rings, R. F. Walters and Miss Emily Walters.

BEANE-O'NEILL. At the residence of Mr. C. C. Baker, on Sixth street south, in this city, April 20th, 1889, by Rev. E. J. Brownson, Mr. Truman W. Beane to Miss Mary M. O'Neill, both of Brainerd.

MCDONALD-JOHNSON. In this city, on Monday, April 20th, 1889, by Rev. Father Watry, Mr. Duncan McDonald to Miss Maude Johnson, both of Brainerd.

Bought the Property.

The city council met in special session Monday evening to receive the report of the committee on the purchase of East Brainerd hose house.

Ald. Cooley reported that arrangements had been made to purchase the Maxwell property on Kindred street for $850. The report was accepted and the clerk was instructed to draw an order not to exceed that amount when the deed is executed and delivered.

The committee on fire apparatus was instructed to have the bell tower removed and replaced at an expense not to exceed $250.

The people interested in the narrowing of Bluff avenue, in Riverside addition, succeeded in getting their petition through. That street was 100 feet wide, and the vacating of 20 feet leaves it the same width as other streets in the city, and the vacated land is made a part and parcel of the lots situate on the north and west side of the avenue.

Meat Will Go Up.

The board of health has fixed the fees to be charged by Meat Inspector Paine at $1 per head for beef and fifty cents for sheep and swine. The Dispatch has no doubt but that the inspection law will have the effect to raise the price of beef cattle in Minnesota, and also that the consumers will pay a higher price for their meat than before the law went into operation. Under this law no dressed meat can hereafter be brought to Brainerd and sold unless the seller has his certificate of inspection to show. All hogs, sheep and cattle killed on farms for the Brainerd market must first be inspected. The supervisors of each town are authorized by the law to appoint one or more inspectors for their town and this should be done at once, and they should at the same time establish the fees to be charged for inspection.

Taffy For Cass County Citizens.

It is surprising to see the number of new settlers moving into Cass county and the country immediately surrounding and tributary to Whitesburg. We do not wish to flatter the settlers of Cass county, north of here, but they are the most intelligent people that it has ever been our good fortune to become acquainted with who were pioneering in a new country. They are thrifty, hard-working men and women, and they are a class that will succeed wherever they may be. They have shown excellent judgment in their selections of homes, for there is no better land in the state for farming purposes, and nowhere can be better pastures and meadows be found. Land ready for the plow, timber for building purposes, and grass, can be found on nearly every farm; and while the crops are growing, railroad ties, piling, cord wood and saw logs can be marketed, and there is no place in the state where a man with limited capital can do as well and be as independent from the start. These people find a ready market for all their products, and find the conveniences of post-office, express office, banks, stores, blacksmith shops and railroads almost at their doors. At the next session of the legislature, when the country is organized, Whitesburg will become the county seat, and then nothing will be wanting to make the lot of these people the pleasantest on earth.—Molloy Register.

Mr. Berg's friends have offered their physical assistance should the matter end in a pugilistic encounter.

Ed. Johnson was unfortunate enough to get on a drunk Saturday, and while in that condition used abusive language toward his wife, which caused a rupture of the family ties. His wife took the first train for Little Falls, leaving the poor dejected fellow to battle through life single-handed.

Mr. Chumbeau was giving our friend Berg some pointers on running astore on Saturday last, and in the course of his remarks it seems he offended Mr. Berg, and a free and forcible lecture from the latter gentleman was the result. THE EIGHT HOUR QUESTION.

Friday and Saturday Evenings.

Mr. Thomas Oberlund, of Duluth, will speak in the Opera House on Friday

evening. Everybody is invited to attend. The labor question is everywhere receiving more attention than

these meetings cannot fail to be instructed and benefited.

THERE is no opposition to the Hon.

W. A. Fleming for municipal judge,

during the recent session and has sacrificed large personal interests in accepting the position. During his

than any predecessor.

annul contracts in force at time of its passage, nor apply to agricultural laborers, commercial travelers, persons work on commission, traveling employees of railway and express companies, persons employed in logging

ufacturing of logs or lumber, nor to

regular pay day.

spiritual adviser. He is to be executed before sunrise and may invite three persons to be present. The sheriff invites six persons besides the

announcement. This is for the purpose of preventing the sensational and sensational accounts of executions

The Rotton State of Things Under the

Capt. W. P. Spaulding for Mayor.

It had not been the intention of the

their course without uttering our protest.

In the first place we want to state that we always have a choice, and unlike certain papers which speak with

afraid to express them.

In the second place we want to

will occur.

At the last city election this paper

were looking after and correcting

payors demanded something more

of vice and hells of infamy would either be closed or so regulated as to no longer make our city a disgrace to civilization; and that our people

hands.

After a year's trial we find that the

still infest and curse the city, and are as defiant as of yore—and more so if

deplorable condition. It is not necessary to particularize, but it is enough to say that in our humble opinion,

air has been altogether too far reach-

character would be protected and that rampant vice would be at

be daily flaunted in the faces of their

Undisputed merit.
